- Manual

2.0 Front window/door sensor

LED indicator :

Flashes 1x : Window/Door is detected as open.

Flashes quickly : Battery power low, exchange battery*

* You will receive a text message if battery level is low. The message contains the following information (up to sensor 9) sensor name with additionally the text 'battery almost empty'. From sensor 10 the name will be replaced for a zone nr. with additionally the text 'battery almost empty'.

3.0 Inside the window/door sensor

3.1 Anti sabotage button

If the sensor is opened this switch will detect it and trigger the alarm.

3.2 Group settings (jumpers)

Every sensor can be configured to be added to a single group by setting the jumper settings; home-group, normal group, single group or 24-hours group.

Bellow you will see an overview of the meaning and how to configure the jumper settings for that type of zone.

Remark : Determine before pairing with the alarm system in which group the sensor will be operational. Once the sensor is successfully paired with the system. The group cannot be changed after pairing!

Remark: If the group of a sensor needs to be changed All sensors need to be paired with the alarm system once more. It is not possible to remove one single sensor from a group ! (See chapter "Delete all wireless sensors by text message")

Home-group

Normal-group

Single-group

24-hours-group

Remark : It's recommended to install detectors that needs to be operational 24-hours for example: smoke detectors in the 24-hours-group.

4.0 Installation tips

It's recommended to install the sensor on the frame (no movement) and to install the magnet on the door/window itself.

Notice: The magnet needs to be placed on the right side of the sensor. The red LED will light up every time the door/window is opened!

The distance between the sensor and the magnet must not exceed 1cm.

Mount both parts with the supplied double-sided tape. You can also choose to mount the sensor by using screws.

It's not recommended to install the sensor in a room with a lot of metal. Neither mount the sensor on constructions. Always check if the red LED will turn on when the door /window is opened.

4.1 Register the window/door sensor

Make sure the sensor and the magnet are located next to each other.

Enter the password and press  button on the control panel.

The LED will turn on. Now separate the magnet from the sensor. The sensor will be triggered. If you hear a beep the sensor is registered to the system. If you hear 2 beeps this indicates this sensor is already registered.
